Prominent Attorney Joins Luxury Law Group's New York Office

Luxury Law Group is pleased to announce the addition of business and litigation attorney Christopher R. Ross to the firm. Licensed to practice in New York, New Jersey, and the District of Columbia, Ross will be leading the New York office.

With fifteen years of experience in private practice as a commercial litigator, Ross brings extensive knowledge in handling business disputes arising under both federal and state statutes and the common law. Mr. Ross has assisted both companies and individual clients in a multitude of litigation matters involving financial and business transactions, including asset and business purchases and sales, loan transactions and a wide variety of other disputes.

"Expanding in New York furthers the Firm's strategy to grow in locations closer to our clientele while continuing to strengthen our core practice areas in yachts, aviation and real estate," says Founding Partner Andrew High. "In the coming years, we will continue targeting expansion in the areas most common to our client base, making it easier to provide concierge level service to serve clients across the country. Our goal is to have seamless integration between convenience to our clients and high level legal services across our core transactional practices" Managing Partner Danielle J. Butler concluded.
